Agnes: Who was your brother?

Peter: Joe.

Agnes: Joe Chamberlain?

Peter: Yeah.

Agnes: Oh, I see.
Peter: Lake Joe. And Kitty was his sister.

Agnes: Kitty...

Peter: Kitty Hanuse. See, there's just us now, you know. Your family, see that's... Agnes is your, well Agnes is your cousin by rights.

Agnes: Yeah.

Peter: The other night we were talking about her grand-uncle, or his grandfather, great-grandfather, yeah, his grandfather -- his Indian name. Time we go it was hers on the father's side, on her father's side.

David: I see.

Peter: Agnes's grandfather is Simon's older brother.

David: What's Simon's older brother's name?

Peter: Charlie. He looked more white man than his father. They had white in them.

David: Oh they did, eh?

Peter: Yeah.

David: Way back then even?

Peter: Yeah. This is, you remember your auntie Victoria? Gee, she had nice wavy hair, eh.

Agnes: Yeah.

Peter: Your granny had wavy hair.

Agnes: Yeah.

Peter: That's the one that told us, you know, we try to ask her... Well, that was before the flu when I came up from school and I try to go and ask her. Well, you know, she was already old too, you see, your granny. They must be over a hundred she said to me. You see she married late, you see. He was one of these wild fellows.

Agnes: Who?

Peter: Joe.

Agnes: Chamberlain?

Peter: Yeah.
Agnes: Oh.

Peter: Just like Norman, now. The girls go crazy over him. He was like that, didn't get married till...

Agnes: Do you remember who Queen was that my dad used to talk about? A lot of people used to talk about this lady named Queen. I guess maybe that's who Queenie was named after.

Peter: It could be. Oh, Queen's mother's name was Daisy. That's Annie's mother too. See, they're step-sisters -- Annie, Jack's wife -- they were step-sisters. They were within, oh, a year apart. See Annie was older. It could have been, it could have been your grandmother's older sister or something.

Agnes: Oh, Lizzy's sister?

Peter: Eh? It could have been. Yeah. She never talked about it, only thing she told me was that I was even... I was much younger, just a kid besides her father, I was older in our story. See, her grandmother told me that herself. And... well, because they're all, they all used to... Sam used to be able to... he was the only one that can quieten my dad down, you know, when he gets drunk and how big he was, you know. He was strong and Christ he only just look at him and then he... (Indian), you got that?

Agnes: Yeah.

Peter: He just goes like this, you know. And he just look at her dad. Just look at him and...

David: Calm him down, eh.

Peter: Calm him right down.

David: I was wondering if we could locate on the map other spots for goat hunting and other special hunting places, for either bear or whatever.

Peter: Well, all slides were for hunting bear. But this one here for the mountain goat hunting.

David: Right at the second narrows?

Peter: Yeah, both sides.

David: On both sides, eh. Well, I'll just leave that there.

Peter: Sometimes there, but this side here and...

David: That's the Sheemahant.

Peter: Well, just all through...

David: All through here, eh?
Peter: Over there. Oh, this is the one here I'm talking about, not this one.

David: Oh, all right.

Peter: No, not this one, not this one. No, that's first narrows. The third narrows, yeah.

David: Yeah, okay. So all through here then, eh?

Peter: Then this side here it's just above the narrows. And this side sometimes. Right by the narrows.

David: Oh right in there, yeah.

Peter: Yeah. And this side.

David: And down in here too, eh?

Peter: Yeah. Now below the... There are places around... sometimes they come around there. This is what used to be a burned-out place before. And you see them way up in the mountains but they don't go hunting there.

David: Oh, I see.

Peter: Yeah. But right across (Indian) see this creek here?

David: Oh yeah.

Peter: Well, there.

David: Up the creek there, eh?

Peter: Yeah, up in the mountain.

David: Way up there.

Peter: No, no, no, it's just right close. This was just above that little creek there, just sort of an open place.

David: Oh, I see.

Peter: The snow slide, they go there. And then there's sort of a hill like -- they come down feet there. And they have just about this, right across (inaudible name) here they used to have a camp there.

David: Oh yeah.

Peter: See when they have a flood, big flood then they have to move to, no, that's the inside.

David: Inside here?
Peter: Yeah, right by the point.

David: Right there, eh?

Peter: They used to have a camp there. You see, when there's a big flood there, houses here are in danger of getting under.

David: Right, yeah.

Peter: See, that's where they had to build it up about this height.

David: Yeah, yeah.

Peter: Yeah, they have to build it up and for open fire they have to build a sort of an under to hold the sand.

David: Oh, I see.

Peter: For the...

David: For the sand and then put the fire on top.

Peter: Yeah, and then they just put a flooring around it.

David: So were these houses up on stilts? Like up on pilings?

Peter: Yeah, yeah.

David: Oh yeah. This is the one here at (Indian)?

Peter: (Indian), yeah. See and then they move across to here, to this point here. And then just above there that's where they usually shoot mountain goats, too.

David: Oh, up in here then, eh?

Peter: Yeah just, it's just inside the point there. And this side too. And here.

David: Right in there, eh?

Peter: Yeah. And then (Indian), it's right there.

David: All up in here?

Peter: Yeah, just right on the right hand side, yeah, around there. That's the only place there. And there are other places around here somewhere, I don't quite remember. And then in this, around here too.

David: Oh yeah.
Peter: Yeah, around there and around there. And I've never known them to hunt on this side. And this... here's the one I'm talking about, that's the (Indian) there. See that little thing there?

David: Right in here?

Peter: Yeah.

David: Oh, yeah.

Peter: Well, it's on this side where the mountain goat hunting, yeah, right there.

David: What was the name of that place again?

Peter: (Indian). Now I don't know the name of this place here, I don't remember the name of it. Well, this is (Indian) there. Well, this here is from (Indian), this is that place I'm talking about.

David: Oh, right in here then.

Peter: Yeah.

David: Yeah. Right in along here?

Peter: Yeah, I don't know the name of that, I don't know the name of that. But there are places where you can mountain goat, you know, sometimes.

David: Yeah.

Peter: That's the only places where I know. But you can see mountain goats way up in the mountains there around these places, you know, where it's bare. But they don't go there. But around, what's this here?

David: This is (Indian), this is (Indian).

Peter: (Indian). Well, I couldn't tell you where to go. See this, people go there. Go to one of these mountains here, they go to for mountain goats.

David: Oh yeah.

Peter: They used to be plentiful there. See, they dry it, you know, for the feast. They smoke it. You know, they smoke it just like, you know, put it...

David: Just like fish?

Peter: Yeah, it's the same thing as fish, but they put it in racks like that and they build a fire underneath it.

David: Right, yeah.
Peter: And then it's cooked and it dries right up and you can pack two goats.

David: Oh I see, yeah.

Peter: They can do it right up in the mountain, but at that place there they can drag it right down. Now that's the place, that side.

David: Oh, on this side. Up in here somewhere?

Peter: Yeah, somewhere there.

David: Would this be past Walker's Lake?

Peter: Yeah, it's a ways up.

David: Quite a ways up.

Peter: This, that's the narrows there, isn't it?

David: Yeah.

Peter: Yeah, well it's above there somewhere.

David: Oh, up in here then, eh?

Peter: Yeah. See it's very hard to get by. You got to have, you got to have big long poles.

David: Oh you do, eh? It's very shallow there?

Peter: It's deep.

David: Oh.

Peter: See, it's a gap. It's a gap and it's, and you got to be an experienced canoeman...

David: To get through there?

Peter: Yeah, you got to have big long poles and heavy, you know.

David: It's fast water?

Peter: It's not very fast but it's so deep you got to be strong and everything. You got to get by there. And...

David: This is the (Indian) now, eh?

Peter: Yeah.

David: Yeah.
Peter: Yeah, there isn't too much story on this here, it's not much. It's just so far away where they can get fish.

David: Yeah.

Peter: And they spawn right there, you see, not very far.

David: On the (Indian).

Peter: Yeah. There's Marble Creek there somewhere.

David: Yeah, right here.

Peter: Yeah. And that's a sockeye creek.

David: It is, eh?

Peter: Yeah. And that's where we shot that big, biggest grizzly bear I ever shot in my life.

David: Right there, eh?

Peter: Yeah. Oh, was he ever big. Oh, I had no, I figured he was maybe twelve feet long or something like that. I had a stick, well, we didn't have no tape or anything, but he was that wide.

David: Really!

Peter: And the fat on him -- I figured seven inches, that's solid blubber, fat. And the thing was that puzzled us was his feet. Instead of, like our feet, you know, more or less a grizzly bear's hindquarters, they were sort of round. They were about that big, you know, like that.

David: Yeah. Quite a different shape then, eh?

Peter: Yeah. Well, and we asked that old fellow there like, Captain Johnson and Moses. And all that they did was take a look at his teeth. He's just a young fellow.

David: Really!

Peter: Yeah.

David: It wasn't a sasquatch, eh?

Peter: No, no, he's a gizzly bear, he was a grizzly bear.

David: Are there other places where... I was wondering what places people would go to out here for either seaweed or clams or abalone? Are there special camps out here?

Peter: Yeah, there's...
David: I wanted to get those on the map too, if I could. Where the people went for various things.

Peter: There's the passage here.

David: This is supposed to be (Indian).

Peter: (Inaudible) little place there.

David: Right here?

Peter: Yeah. That's a little bit... that's where her and I see the sasquatch.

David: That's a fish camp is it, sort of?

Peter: No, no, it's... They go out there, you know. Well, some people go up there during the wintertime, you know, for, you know, that they could trap some minks and that.

David: Oh I see.

Peter: And they live on fish and clams, yeah.

David: So that's sort of a winter camp right in there, eh?

Peter: Yeah. Not actually a winter camp but they go out there, you know, sometimes they... See, after the salmon season like, they go out there, you know, to trap mink. This place was just full of mink.

David: It was, eh?

Peter: Years ago.

David: That's Walburn Island.

Peter: Well this, this one here, camp here.

David: Right in here?

Peter: No, no, you see that little inlet right there?

David: Right in here?

Peter: Yeah. There were people living in there. There was clam bed there but I don't know the name of that.

David: That was clam beds, eh?

Peter: Yeah, clam beds and this, this little halibut hole right here somewhere.

David: Halibut?

Peter: Halibut hole. And right there it's all red cod fishing ground all over, and there's, you know, all kinds of edible stuff there. And, well, we wouldn't go to this here. Oh, here's another camp just across, that's Dawson's Landing in there, see.

David: Yeah, yeah.

Peter: That red mark there. See this is not...

David: This is where the Beaver Cannery was, I guess.

Peter: Yes.

David: Yeah.

Peter: Well, this... I can't... I know the camp too.

David: This was a camp here, was it?

Peter: Yeah. And there's the east little island that was there; there's a story to it too, about them, you know, them -- I don't know what you call them -- the big frogs, the big, big, giant frogs.

David: Bull frogs?

Peter: I guess that's what you call them. You know that one with the skinny tail? Well, it's something you're supposed to go like this and then you can grab it with a stick, two sticks and turn them over and they die. And you wrap them up and you get the money lure.

David: What's that word again?

Peter: It's some kind of a lure. How the hell do...?

David: For fishing?

Peter: Yeah, anything...

David: Oh, a money lure.

Peter: Or...

David: To help you find treasure, you mean?

Peter: No, anything to do with money or for, you know, like if you're hunting for something, like grub or anything. You know, it helps you.

David: It was like a good luck charm then, eh?

Peter: Yeah, something like that. Same with that (Indian), same thing, that's the same thing.

David: Was it a lizard?
Peter: No, it was a frog.

David: It was a frog?

Peter: Yeah.

David: With a long tail?

Peter: Great big, big, big thing.

David: So you caught one?

Peter: Now if you get one, you're supposed to wrap it up and you put it in where there's a dry spot on the... If there's just a split on the, or dry spot on the cedar tree, you bury it there. Same as the land crab.

David: Yeah, I've heard about the land crab. You catch a land crab, eh?

Peter: If you don't get a land crab, you don't take it with your hand, you just reach back and the stick -- automatically he'll go to your hand, then you turn it over.

David: Turn it over with a stick?

Peter: Yeah, and you do the same thing.

David: Bury it in a dry spot?

Peter: Either that or you put it away in your treasure chest or something, you wrap it up.

David: Oh I see. How would you kill it though?

Peter: Well, you just turn it over. It automatically is supposed to die.

David: How big do these land crabs get?

Peter: Well, it will be about the same size as any crab. It all depends on what you are, how pure you are.

David: Yeah, how pure you are?

Peter: Yeah. You understand?

David: If you're clean.

Peter: Yeah.

David: Yeah. Depends on your power then?

Peter: Yeah.
David: Yeah.

Peter: Yeah, I'll have some of... And now have you got that word (Indian)?

Agnes: Yeah.

Peter: Did you know the story about it? It's the same thing. And you did the same thing too -- you just reached behind and it automatically go to your hand and then you grab that with it. And then you wrap it up and it's, you know, you know what I mean, you know, it helps you. See, like a long time ago it helps you. You don't have hard time getting like groceries, or hunting, or money.

Agnes: What does the (Indian) look like? It can come in any form?

Peter: Anything, but it's a fish.

Agnes: Oh, I see. It's a fish?

Peter: Yeah. It's a two-headed fish.

Agnes: Oh.

David: Oh, I see.

Peter: See the thing in the bottom of some totem poles? Well, that's what it is, that's (Indian). You remember old Sampson?

Agnes: Sampson...

Peter: (name).

Agnes: Yeah.

Peter: That's what he... He just grabbed it -- this was on the mountain side. He says, "Look at this little fish here." And it went right into him and paralyzed -- it that half of his body.

David: The two-headed?

Peter: Yeah. It can be anything.

David: Yeah.

Peter: And if you go to a landslide... Some people go there and take a look and you find a fish scale, and you take that and you wrap it up and you put it in your treasure chest or something. Yeah, that's right.

Agnes: Landslide.

Peter: If there was a landslide and you go, you know. Some people get curious, you know, and if you see a fish scale you pick it up. Now there's a fly just like, you know, them black flies -- not the horse fly.

David: Right.

Peter: Those small little flies that's blue, but they're bigger than the... about the size of a house fly. And you take that -- it's way bigger -- and you put that away, that's the same thing.

Agnes: It's blue, eh?

Peter: Yeah, you never see it. But I forgot to tell you about this... Now you...

David: Were there any more camping spots or spots for crabs, or abalone or...

Peter: Well, all these here in (Indian), there are camp sites around here but I couldn't tell you the names.

David: They would be on this island here?

Peter: Well this... See, there's different names on these now.

David: Yeah, they've changed.

Peter: Oh, is that a retreat there?

David: Yeah, Schooner Retreat it's called.

Peter: Well, that's the camp.

David: Right in here?

Peter: Yeah, that's where Agnes spent her childhood there, with her grandparents. Clams, everything, everything.

David: Abalone too?

Peter: Everything. See, like it's close to the... you know, where the big swallows are.

David: Yeah.

Peter: And I don't know, I guess it's just a section of the big waves and it brings up them big barnacles.

David: Oh yeah.

Peter: And you just go around with a shack and you pick up a bucket full and you cook them.

Agnes: Yeah, because I tried to pick some and I try to kick it off the rock and all that came off was the shell and the food was on the rock.

Peter: They just come up. They are something just like oyster. See, the main shell doesn't come off. And, well, apparently it spoils after. (knock on door) Come in. See right... The name of that place is a sand beach there.

David: There's a sandy beach in here is there?

Peter: Yeah.

David: Is this where they camped?

Peter: Yeah, I forget the name of it now. That's a camp there. Used to be. But this here, that big sand beach here, it's called (Indian).

David: I'll just mark it here. Eating on the job here.

Peter: Yeah, let's go back to this one, Safety Cove. I know the name of that one all right.

David: There was a camp there, was there?

Peter: Yeah. You got fishing and everything there. Like it's got a clam beach and that stuff, you know.

David: What time of year would you be there at?

Peter: Well, it's any time, you go there any time -- spring. Now there's another place here that used to have a camp. Oh, we have one here. Where are we? This is (Indian).

David: Where are we looking, right on here?

Peter: Right on here. See this one?

David: Over here on Morgan Bay?

Peter: Yeah, that's (Indian).

David: On this side, eh?

Peter: Yeah, (Indian).

David: Could you give Evelyn this name again so that we could write it down?

Peter: (Indian).

David: It's called... near Cranston Point. That will identify it for us, I got it marked on the map.

Agnes: Okay, put an 'n' on that and an 'a' on the other one.
Peter: (Indian). That comes out of the rocks.

Agnes: Is that the name of that island?

Peter: That's a spring.

Agnes: Is there a spring there?

Peter: Well, there's supposed to be. That's the reason why they call it Adambrook.

Agnes: What did I do with my paper?

Peter: You know that... you see, they had one there.

Agnes: Where abouts? Just behind where Alfred used to live, eh?

Peter: No, just at R.I.C. there.

Agnes: Yeah.

Peter: It's coming out of the road right now, that truck road.

Agnes: Oh.

Peter: That's where I used to see that spring there.

David: So there was a camp at Adambrook was there?

Peter: Well, there was, see, it's pretty hard to... Yeah, that's sort of...

Agnes: (Indian).

David: For Adambrook?

Agnes: Yeah.

Peter: Oh this is, yeah, there is an Adambrook there, see.

David: Yeah, this is what they call Adambrook Island, and this is Adambrook Point.

Peter: Oh, that's a new one to me. In here, all over, you know, like for... There's camps all around here and there's camps all over here for getting eggs, heron eggs. This is, this used to be a camp right in between that there in that little island there.

David: Corvette Island?
Peter: I think there's two islands. On a big island.

David: Oh, I see.

Peter: Used to be there and...

David: Then Fish Egg Inlet now.

Peter: This is, this is what we were looking for here. Now that's...

David: All right, where are we now? We're right here in Fish Egg Inlet right up by Sulphur Arm, here. This is where you were pointing before.

Peter: Yeah, right in there, that's the rapids there when the tide goes out. And it foams, you know, and you're not supposed to say (Indian). See, you know, they call it, you know, that foam. So they... if you say it, that stuff will just rise like that and then something gets you, some kind of a fish. You're supposed to call it what it is, you know, that foam. So it's (Indian), that's fish eggs.

Agnes: Q-U.

David: Q-U, okay.

Peter: You mark where...

David: Well, you had it right up in here in this (inaudible).

Peter: In behind that little point there, yeah, right there, (Indian).

David: Right in here, eh?

Peter: Yeah, that's where Joe Moe used to stay.

Agnes: Y-A-T, Quyat, yeah.

Peter: That's, they used to have a camp right there. And there were places there where you couldn't go... Let me see, (Indian) that's in that... where that creek is.

David: Oh, this is what you were trying to think of before?

Peter: Yeah, yeah (Indian).

David: What would I use there, Q-?

Agnes: If it's a 'G' that's...

David: Oh, (Indian).

Peter: (Indian). The only thing, another thing I couldn't think of is this too.

David: Was there one in there?

Peter: Fin Bay, no, I was just wondering, I was trying to think of the name. Now we're here and you wanted to... Well, I was trying to think of what the name of this one. And I was trying to think of the name of that one too.

David: Yeah, I've got that marked and there was one up in here too, was there?

Peter: Yeah, see this creek there, you see. I know the name all right. But she's got this one, (Indian) yeah, you got that one.

Agnes: Well, okay that (Indian).

Peter: It's in around here somewhere.

David: Right on this part?

Peter: Yeah, around there and (Indian) is there too. Referring to that, you know, that mountain with that round -- you can see it inside on that mountain -- that round thing. You can see it when you're going to Rivers from inside.

Agnes: Oh (Indian).

Peter: Yeah. Well this goes to, that goes to this here somewhere, that's where it is, (Indian). Somewhere around there, and I'm trying to think of the name of this, I know the name of it all right. That used to have a camp here. This here I'm trying to... There's a hole down in the mountain and there's a flat piece of rock there. Sometimes if you're not pure enough you can't find it. Your grandfather tried to look for it, he couldn't find it. People that comes up, you know, come like big sores on body, like ulcerated or something like that. You go there and there's a hole there, and this fellow -- he was supposed to be a brave man, you know. He's supposed to be a brave man. Like that (Indian) is supposed to be live leaves or seaweeds or something down there by the point there. He dived there and he said nothing got him. He's supposed to be brave and then he got sick with something, I don't know, maybe from a woman or something like that. That all comes to big sores on his body. And he went to this place, you know, this place where (Indian)...

Agnes: (Indian).

Peter: Yeah, well it's up here somewhere.

David: Is it up in the mountains, or...?

Peter: No, no, no, just right in the flat there.

David: It's in here?
Peter: It's right by the mountain. Oh, it's above there, just above that bend there.

David: Oh, I see, right in here.

Peter: It's sort of flat there, right by the... not up there, it's just close to this point.

David: Oh, it's close to the point. Oh, I see.

Peter: Yeah, it's around there somewhere, you know, you got to be...

David: Right in here?

Peter: Yeah, right around there. And there's a flat rock there...

David: You mean like in a oval or a circle?

Peter: Oh, I don't know... And there's a hole which you go down and there's a sheet there and a place for your feet. And when you go down there and there's a big giant frog there looking at you. What will he say, "(Indian)," you've got that word, have you?

Agnes: Yeah.

Peter: And he's supposed to be a brave man. When he seen that frog he didn't go down. See, that water rises and it goes so far in your body and then it goes down. And when it goes past your feet, you got a place for your feet, where that frog is. That frog is looking at you. First thing he did when he seen the frog, he backed out.

David: So if you stay in there it comes up and goes down?

Peter: The water comes up.

David: Does it cure you or what does it do?

Peter: Well, it tingles in your body and then you go and lay on this rock. And there's four dogs, whether you're hypnotized or something and they open you right up, and they lick your insides. Whether you're hypnotized or, it just something. But you're cured. And there's a lot of people try and go to look for it and it's there.

David: Yeah, I remember Danny telling me about that place.

Peter: Yeah?

David: Yeah.

Peter: See, we used to walk around there, all right. But lot of stories like in Moses Inlet there. See, if you're in trouble with your eyes there's two places and it's like this, you know, it's so big and it's got water in there all the time. One is a small one, I guess that's where you wash your eyes out first and then you go to the next one.

David: That's in Moses is it?

Peter: Yeah.

David: At the head of Moses?

Peter: No, it's... I don't know where abouts but it's not up the head. That's another story about curing. Well, let's go back to this other deal here, these camps. I remember that one now, you got that one there. See that little place there?

David: Right here?

Peter: Yeah. And it's called (Indian).

Peter: And you're not supposed to say hair, you're supposed to say (Indian) instead of referring to hair of the grizzly. And if you say that, you know, the other word and the grizzly bear comes out of the water and you're done for. He's walking right on top of the water. Yeah. That's why they called it (Indian). That's another story for that one.

David: Yeah, yeah.

Peter: Now, I don't know much about... this is the only one I know of. We're finished here except this one.

David: Yeah, you didn't quite get that one.

Peter: No. But these here I might remember.

David: There was more up in here was there?

Peter: Yeah, yeah, there's more up in there.

David: Right on this long channel?

Peter: Yeah. I don't know where the camp was here. People here and there, you know. During, like spring, you know. They all get away from home for a while, you know, to the camps. See, like they catch halibut and they make, they slice it up.

David: Right, fillet it, yeah.
Peter: And this, another story, this around here, remember that thing that looked like a falls just above Adambrook, just in Calvert Island?

Agnes: Yeah.

Peter: There's a story there about a crab too.

David: Land crab?

Peter: Yeah. But it's a big one.

David: Oh yeah.

Peter: See, you have to purify yourself first.

Agnes: Before you go there?

Peter: Yeah. And this fellow, well this fellow was a Bella Bella, you see. I don't know whether it was his son or nephew. Oh no, no, this was from home all right. And he made it, all right, but when he seen that big frog on that rock where, and he's supposed to get that thing with a stick -- supposed to go like this, reach, turn it over and he would have had that for his lure. And he got scared and he died before he could get to the shoreline. It's sort of lake there somewhere, it doesn't show.

David: Where are we looking now, right in here?

Peter: Yeah, that little, that little, one of these creeks. You know, where that -- there's a falls, like, there. Only it's not a very big, high, but it shows right in the shoreline. And over here -- I had that in my own mind -- there used to be a camp there in here. That's for when the herring is time. That's in the that little bay, like...

David: Right there?

Peter: Yeah, right in there. Yeah, see that narrows there? The camp site's in here somewhere.

David: Oh I see, yeah, okay.

Peter: Yeah.

David: What is the name for that?

Peter: I had the (Indian).

Agnes: H-A-I...

Peter: Now...

Agnes: (Indian).
Peter: Now that I couldn't explain. It has something to do with... And there's a creek just in behind there. See there's, see that little mark there? That's that creek. And they used to have a little camp there, and there's a clam bed there, and a bit of salmon go up there. See that little mark? It's over this side of the point.

David: Oh, right here?

Peter: No, no, right there. See that mark there?

David: Yeah.

Peter: Yeah, that's that little creek there.

David: Oh yeah. That's another camp?

Peter: Yeah. There used to be a little camp, just a little thing.

David: Oh yeah.

Peter: And that's the little anchorage there. But I, I don't know if they had any camps here, right on the point there.

David: Oh, there's a camp in there, eh?

Peter: On the other side, yeah.

David: Over in here?

Peter: Yeah, that's a beach there, clam beach right there. Yeah. There used to, there should be a rock there, that's a clam beach there.

David: Was there still a village there when you were growing up?

Peter: No, no.

David: Long gone, eh?

Peter: Long gone. Only house was there was Joe Morrison. It was already... they weren't living there anymore, that's when they were living at Fish Egg. That house is already ready to... I don't know whether he was logging around there or... but he used to log all the time.

David: Yeah.

Peter: And he says... We never used to buy, you know, booze, you know, used to buy them by the barrel.

David: Oh yeah.
Peter: He must have been quite a guy with a... So that -- in behind that island, that little island in front of Calvert Island, that sandy beach, (Indian).

Agnes: Oh yeah.

Peter: I think that's what (Indian).

David: A-I?

Agnes: Yeah.

Peter: You hear what I'm thinking.

David: Comes back to you, eh?

Peter: Yeah. And they drag the canoes over. See, there's a pine beach just over it, you know.

Agnes: On the Smith's Inlet side?

Peter: Yeah.

David: And they used to drag their canoes from Goose Bay right over?

Peter: Yeah, it's not far. It's only a little ways.

David: Is it not steep?

Peter: No, no. These here are just sort of flat.

David: Right through here, eh?

Peter: Yeah.

Agnes: You can see it from the pine.

David: Yeah. Oh, Good Hope?

Peter: Yeah, there's a name for that too.

David: There is, eh?

Peter: Yeah. Let's take a look at (Indian).

David: Okay, where's (Indian)?

Peter: Doesn't...

David: This is (Indian) here I think.

Peter: Yeah, that's (Indian). That's (Indian) -- they used to have a camp there too.
David: In here?
Peter: On that side.
David: On this side?
Peter: Yeah. And the sand beach there. The reason why I was going to ask you, and that's the lake for that creek that goes into (Indian).
David: This is a lake here, it says, and there's a falls here. Is this the one?
Peter: No, no, no, can't be it.
David: How about this one?
Peter: Yeah, but where (Indian) ends up here.
David: No, they call it the (name) but it's the same as the (Indian) and it comes right into this lake.
Peter: This, this... it might be it. This could be it, yeah. See, we camped here, if that's the one. Oh yeah, it must be one, this is the one here that goes to another one, you see.
David: Yeah.
Peter: See this one that goes into that (Indian)? Does it say (Indian) here?
David: Yeah, well they call it the (name).
Peter: Well, this must be it. (Indian).
David: What went on there?
Peter: The geese went and shed their feathers when they're going to change their feathers, (Indian).
David: Was it a camp of any kind?
Peter: No. It's just a, one of the... I didn't know it was that far inland there. It took us eight hours straight walk going down, and we camped so many times. That's where them big cutthroats are, in that creek.
David: The trout?
Peter: Yeah, they're about ten pounds.
Agnes: M-A-A.
Peter: And in that place that, where is it?
David: Right there, yeah.
Peter: And there's a, instead of draining from the lake it drained from the middle. It drained from the middle and then it comes out and then comes into the, and then it's a river then; after it leaves the lake it goes under. It's right in the middle and you could see the, you know, where it drains. It's right in the middle somewhere.

David: How about this other creek that comes into the (Indian)?

Peter: I don't know the name of it.

David: It comes out of the lake too.

Peter: Yeah, there's nothing there. According to Jack there isn't anything, any story to it. And that's... and it drains from the middle. Shooting and they thought I was lost. I wanted to see it, then I had to turn back, you know, I thought there was something wrong. When I told him, "Why did you do that?" And I was going to go and see that place, I wanted to see it. It wouldn't take me long to get there, so I was running. You were just around, I'm just going around that bend and you would have been there according to Albert Harry. Gee, he was mad when I got, this was before Christmas, this was a few days before Christmas and she was labouring then with that one there.

Agnes: Oh.

Peter: That was our second one. Oh, was he ever mad, you know. It's a nice place up there. There's sort of a lake there, that's right by that... See, this one comes in from the bottom end of it. It's not a big lake, it's just sort of... the beavers must have opened it.

David: Oh, I see.

Peter: See, to let things grow in. And the sand is that color, sort of yellow, you know.

David: Sand, eh?

Peter: And you know Jack Johnson has sort of poor eyes, but his vision was good. And he could spot those big, big trout in that sand. And it was freezing up there and it was raining down in the lake. And it was freezing up there and we walked ice there going to the top, to the river you see. First camp night he went to the log jams, you see, and he brought, I don't know, I was wondering why he took up some halibut hooks. See, he just packed it on... And he put it on and he went... he didn't tell us anything, just seen this big trout, cutthroat. It's the same as steelhead, you know. And oh boy, oh boy, it's something to eat. I packed ten down. We dressed first, though, and Jack tried to tell us not to... Well, we cooked the eggs. See, it was spawning then just before Christmas, and some weren't even ready for spawning. And he told us that, "Don't eat that before we go down." Norman and I, you know, it was... it's rich, real rich. And about an hour after, you know, start flopping around.  (laughs)  You know, got weak, you know, got weak.  "I told you boys not to..." I didn't listen to him but we didn't, Norman and I didn't. And I had ten of those in my pack. And, well, that was supposed to be just for us.

Davy grabbed hold of two right away, you know, when he see it, Dave Bernard. And somebody else in there, she managed to grab ahold of one and Norman got one and you talk about good eat.

David:    Yeah.

Peter:    Yeah. And we ended off... we thought those beaver up there, but apparently they had gone off. See, they opened the dam. See, it goes right, they just close to Rivers, it wasn't too big then, you see. There's many little creeks going as you come down the (Indian). Oh, was he ever mad, "You're just maybe about, if you were running, you're maybe two, three, four minutes before you get there," he said to me. "All you had to do is climb a little and you're going to see it." I really wanted to see it.

David:    So there's a painting there?

Agnes:    There's some more on the other side.

David:    There's a whale here, eh?

Agnes:    Yeah.

David:    Where abouts is it?

Peter:    It's not too far...

Agnes:    They can't really see it because...

Peter:    It's over here somewhere.

Agnes:    It's just over here somewhere.

David:    Right next to this creek here?

Peter:    Yeah.

David:    That's a whale carving?

Peter:    Yeah.

Agnes:    Yeah. And straight across from it is some more but it's, you know, they are not complete...

David:    It's a painting more than anything, isn't it?

Agnes:    No, it's carved.

David:    It's a carving too, is it?
Peter: Carving too.

David: And you have to look at the one across, you know, the certain angle when the light is on it and you can see where it's, you know, carved in. But I couldn't tell what they are, it's look like, you know, the rest of the whale.

Peter: No, I didn't see that, it must have been shown to them by your dad, maybe. I don't remember -- Jack may have told me but...

Agnes: I showed it to (name) when we were there.

David: Were there any other...
