1.2 APPLICATION FORMS & DEADLINES

The availability of application forms and deadlines is indicated in this booklet. Most application forms are available on the University's web site at www.uregina.ca/awards or the Faculty offices. No application is required for the University of Regina Centennial Merit and Academic Award programs.

Deadlines are effective 4:30 p.m. If a deadline falls on a weekend or statutory holiday, the deadline becomes 4:30 p.m. on the next business day.

1.3 TYPES OF AWARDS

The term "award" encompasses four major types:

1. A scholarship is financial aid towards academic studies, awarded on academic merit alone, or on academic merit combined with other criteria.
2. A bursary is an award of money towards fees based on financial need.
3. A prize is a reward for academic merit. Continued study is not a condition.
4. An athletic award is a grant of money to a student who participates in Canadian InterUniversity Sport (CIS) competition. These awards are governed by CIS regulations.

Scholarships and bursaries may be for students who will be attending the University of Regina for the first time (entrance scholarships & bursaries) or for students who have already completed at least one semester at the University of Regina (undergraduate scholarships & bursaries).

2. COMMONLY-USED TERMS

Academic Achievement

Unless otherwise stated, academic achievement means an average of 75% or higher. An explanation of how averages are calculated can be found in the next section.

Direct Entrance

When an entrance award requires "Direct entrance from high school," applicants must be applying for admission to the next semester after high school graduation; usually this means they are graduating in June and applying to the next Fall semester which begins in September. Applicants are also considered to be coming directly from high school if they apply for admission to the Fall semester after graduating in the immediately preceding December or January.

Disability

Students who are unable, because of a disability, to register in the minimum credit hours stated in a scholarship's terms of reference, may nevertheless be eligible for consideration if their maximum course load is specified and documented by a professional qualified to assess their disability. Students must have been registered with, and their documentation must have been provided to and verified by, the University of Regina's Disability Resource Office at the start of each semester during which the student may be considered for a scholarship or bursary.

Financial Need

When financial need is a criterion for an award, applicants must supply a statement of their projected costs and income. More information is given on application forms.

Registration

Unless otherwise stated, a requirement to be "registered in..." indicates the minimum number of credit hours the recipient of an award must be registered in throughout the semester in which the scholarship is paid. Registration must be processed and finalized by the last day to drop classes. This date is available online @ www.uregina.ca/compser/v/postcard/academic_schedule.shtml or in the Undergraduate Calendar. If no statement about registration is made, registration in at least 12 credit hours is required.

Residence

Unless otherwise stated, a requirement to be “resident in ...” means that the candidate must have lived in the stated location for a minimum of twelve consecutive months immediately preceding the date of application for the award.

Year of Study

The descriptions of undergraduate scholarships and bursaries refer to “year of study.” Unless otherwise stated, this should be interpreted as follows:

Year 1: students who successfully completed 0-23 credit hours

Year 2: students who successfully completed 24-53 credit hours

Year 3: students who successfully completed 54-83 credit hours

Year 4: students who successfully completed 84-113 credit hours

Year 5: students who successfully completed 114-143 credit hours

Beyond 5th year: students who have successfully completed 144 or more credit hours

When certification is required, the University certifies total credit hours successfully completed, including credit hours that may be extra to the current program.

3. COURSE LOADS AND CALCULATION OF AVERAGES

Averages are not rounded. An average truncated to two decimal places is used, unless candidates are being ranked, in which cases an untruncated average is used. (See also §5.10.2 in Undergraduate Calendar).

3.1 THE “ADMISSION” OR “ENTRANCE SCHOLARSHIP” AVERAGE

The Admissions or Entrance scholarship average is used to award scholarships, and for students currently attending high school is calculated on the final marks of the courses shown below:

- On or before June 15th, the highest final marks of 20-level or 30-level courses taken prior to or during the 1st semester of grade 12, are used to calculate the average.
- After June 15th, only final marks of 30-level courses, are used to calculate the average.

Note: The University of Regina reserves the right to limit entrance scholarship average calculations to final 30-level courses, for any student who has met final admission requirements to the University.

For Centennial Merit and Centennial Merit Plus ONLY: Saskatchewan high school students who applied for early conditional admission directly from high school, but did not qualify for a Centennial Merit or Centennial Merit Plus scholarship at that time but now feel they are eligible, must apply in writing after final grade 12 transcripts are available but before September 15th for a recalculation based solely on final 30 level courses. (See §5.1 for details)

1. One course in English Language Arts, Français immersion, or Français fransaskois (20 or 30)
2. One of Math 20, Math A30, Math B30, Math C30, or Calculus 30
3. One course from List A (20 or 30 level)
4. One course from List B (20 or 30 level)
5. One further elective from list A or B

Notes:

A second 30 level course in English Language Arts, Français Immersion, or Français fransaskois may be used but only as a 5th subject

A maximum of 2 math courses may be used including Math 20
A maximum of one (marked *) can be used

Requirements 3, 4, and 5 must be met by different subjects

Students who qualify for admission are considered to have the minimum academic standing required for an entrance bursary.

3.2 ENTERING AVERAGE FOR CIS ELIGIBILITY

CIS regulations require that student athletes who are offered an athletic entrance scholarship must have a minimum 80% entering average. Unless otherwise stated in the selection criteria for a particular award, the entering average for purposes of eligibility under this regulation is calculated as follows:

1. The admission average is used for:

- Students entering directly from high school
- Students who have completed less than one full program year in a post-secondary program
- Students who have taken a post-secondary program not recognized by the University of Regina, regardless of length

2. The average of the last 30 credit hours attempted (equivalent to one full program year) is used for students who have attended, for at least one full academic year, a post-secondary program recognized by the University of Regina. Non-percentage grades are converted to percentages using institutional tables maintained by the University of Regina.

3.3 GPAs FOR UNDERGRADUATE AWARDS

The grade point average (GPA) used for most average calculations for awards that are based in whole or in part on academic performance at the University is the TGPA (term) or CGPA (cumulative), as appropriate. A few awards are based on PGPA (program). The annual grade point averages for athletic awards are calculated according to UGPA (undergraduate) rules.

Eligibility for most undergraduate awards is determined, by use of a grade point average (GPA), calculated by (1) multiplying, for each course, the credit hours by the grade earned, (2) adding together the products of that multiplication, (3) adding together the credit hours for the courses used, and (4) dividing the first sum by the second. The calculation is not rounded but is truncated to two decimal places. Only percentage grades, grades of NP, and grades of XF are used in CGPA calculations. Grades of 0%-39% and NP are all counted as 40% in the calculation; XF is counted as 0%, and grades of 40% - 100% are used as recorded.

University of Regina GPAs are defined as follows:

1. Cumulative grade point average (CGPA): The CGPA is based on all University of Regina courses taken, whether passed or failed, repeated or not.
2. Undergraduate grade point average (UGPA): The UGPA is also based on all University of Regina courses taken, but when a course has been repeated, only the grade in the most recent approved attempt is used (refer to the rules on repeating courses in §5.12 of the University of Regina Undergraduate Calendar).
3. Program grade point average (PGPA): The PGPA is calculated according to UGPA rules, but is based only on the courses that are used in a particular program. A failing grade in a required course is included in the calculation until the course has been successfully repeated (refer to the rules on repeating courses in §5.12 of the University of Regina Undergraduate Calendar),

4. Term grade point average (TGPA): The TGPA is calculated according to CGPA rules, and is based on all courses taken in a particular term/semester (Fall, Winter, or Spring/Summer)

Scholarships based on cumulative academic performance require a minimum CGPA of 75% unless otherwise stated in the selection criteria.

3.4 COURSE LOADS

3.4.1 Minimum Course Load to Earn Undergraduate Scholarships

To be eligible to earn undergraduate scholarships, a student must be registered in a full load of courses (15 credit hours) at the University of Regina, unless otherwise stated in the selection criteria. For semester-based scholarships, at least 9 of the minimum 15 credit hours must be numerically graded.

3.4.2 Minimum Course Load while Receiving a Scholarship or Bursary

Scholarship recipients must be registered in and remain registered in at least 12 credit hours throughout the semester in which the scholarship is paid, unless otherwise stated in the selection criteria for that scholarship. In order to hold an athletic award recipients must register for at least 9 credit hours unless otherwise stated. Registration must be processed and finalized by the last day to drop classes. This date is available online at www.uregina.ca/compsevr/postcard/academic.schedule.shtml or in the Undergraduate Calendar. Unless otherwise stated in the award's terms of reference, bursary recipients must be registered in the semester in which the award is paid as follows: bursary value of less than $500: minimum 3 credit hours, bursary value of $500 or more: minimum 9 credit hours. Recipients who do not meet these requirements will have their scholarship withdrawn and will be required to repay it.

3.4.3 Accommodation on Course Load for Students with Disabilities

Students who are unable, because of a disability, to register in the minimum credit hours stated in a scholarship's terms of reference, may nevertheless be eligible for consideration if their maximum course load is specified and documented by a professional qualified to assess their disability. Students must have been registered with, and their documentation must have been provided to and verified by the University of Regina's Disability Resource Office at the start of each semester during which the student may be considered for a scholarship or bursary.

4. GENERAL REGULATIONS

1. The University reserves the following rights:
 1. to give consideration to fair distribution in the allocation of awards;
 2. to withhold an award in any year in which there is no candidate who meets the selection criteria;
 3. to cancel and require repayment of an award if the recipient commits misconduct (see §5.14) or if the recipient's conduct on or off campus is deemed to be unprofessional and not in accord with the principles promoted by the University;
4. to cancel and require repayment of an award if the recipient is not registered in the required number of credit hours by last date to drop classes (this date is available in the Undergraduate Calendar or online at www.uregina.ca/compsevr/postcard/academic.schedule.shtml) and remain registered throughout the semester in which the award is paid.
2. To be eligible for consideration, and unless otherwise stated, candidates for awards must complete the relevant application form and submit it at the same time as any required documentation. When an application form lists multiple awards, applicants will be considered for only those they have marked.
3. Unless otherwise stated, scholarships and bursaries are awarded annually in the Fall semester. They must be accepted for the semester(s) for which they are offered. Deferrals of scholarships will be allowed in the following circumstances only:
 1. Students on a Co-op work term: the award will be deferred to the semester following completion of the work term;
 2. Students attending Université Laval as part of the Baccalauréat en Education program: the award will be deferred to the Fall semester of their scheduled return.
4. Students who have been granted any full-semester deferrals of term work or final examinations (see §5.8.7) are not eligible to be awarded a scholarship.
5. To qualify for an award, a student must have removed all incomplete grades, completed deferred examinations and had any grade changes completed within six weeks following the end of the semester.
6. Receipt of awards is conditional upon the recipient's compliance with all of the terms, conditions, guidelines and regulations as set out in the terms of reference. Students who did not supply their social insurance number on their application for admission form must now provide it to the Student Awards & Financial Aid Office for income tax purposes. Students who do not have a social insurance number need to apply for one as quickly as possible. Visa students who are not eligible for a social insurance number should consult Student Awards & Financial Aid.
7. Scholarships are credited to the recipient's student account after the last date to drop classes. This date is available in the Undergraduate Calendar or online at www.uregina.ca/compsevr/postcard/academic.schedule.shtml. The first charges against them are tuition and fees, followed by any other outstanding debits on the account. Once the student account is clear, any remainder is issued to the student, as a cheque. In some cases, scholarships are paid in two installments, of which the second may be conditional on academic performance; such conditions are noted in the descriptions of awards.
8. Unless otherwise noted, students must be attending the University of Regina, or participating in a formal exchange program in which they pay tuition and fees at the University of Regina, in order to receive a scholarship or bursary.
9. A student's official transcript shows the receipt of Convocation prizes and all other awards except for bursaries based on financial need only with an undergraduate grade point average (CGPA, TGPA, PGPA as indicated) below 70.0%.
10. Students who are enrolled in two programs concurrently (see §2.6.7 and §6.13) are eligible for faculty awards in the faculty of their primary program only.
11. Appeals of awards regulations are considered first by the Assistant Registrar (Student Awards and Financial Aid). These decisions may be further appealed to the Undergraduate Scholarship Committee which meets in late September and early May. The decision of the Undergraduate committee is final and there is no further appeal process. Appeals must be submitted in writing to the Student Awards & Financial Aid Office, and must be accompanied by a certificate from an attending physician if the appeal is based on medical grounds.

continued... Academic All-Canadian Scholarship	UR Scholars and UR Scholar Athletes who meet the eligibility criteria receive a transcript mention of Academic All-Canadian, but no monetary award. If you are required to complete one academic semester and two work terms in the upcoming CIS year (September to August), we will remit tuition and course fees for up to 12 credit hours in your academic semester, and cover your co-op fee for both work terms. This is exceptional. If you are required to complete two academic semesters and one work term, we will remit tuition and course fees for up to 12 credit hours in each academic semester (regardless of which of the three terms is the work term), but we will not cover your co-op fee. This is standard practice, which allows for deferral of a scholarship while a work term is completed.			<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A student-athlete who has been named a CIS Academic All-Canadian and has CIS eligibility remaining but does not participate on an interuniversity athletic team in the subsequent season or leaves the team during the competitive season will receive a transcript mention but will NOT be eligible for scholarship funding • Effective May 2007, an exception to the above is that a student-athlete who achieves Academic All Canadian status in their fifth year of CIS eligibility will be eligible for a maximum of 12 credit hours in the following year. This may be applied in the Spring/Summer or Fall term
