Levi: I don't know what to say. (inaudible).

Question: Sir, what do you know about was then?

Levi: I don't know very much about them days. I don't bother.

Question: Yeah, what do you know about (inaudible)?

Levi: (Inaudible).

Question: Who are all the older people?

Levi: (Inaudible). I used to know them but now I don't remember. (Inaudible).

Question: How many of them are (inaudible)?

Levi: All of them. Trapping then, (inaudible) I trapped there mostly a long time ago.

Question: Do you remember if there was caribou?

Levi: No, I never seen no caribou, never no, caribou (inaudible).
Question: Your father's name was George, eh?
Levi: Yeah, George Wasegenis his name was.

Question: (inaudible) you went back three generations.
Levi: Yeah.

Question: Your grandmother, you can remember her?
Levi: Yeah. My father (inaudible) me. I didn't, I don't know very much, but I saw her (inaudible). At the time my mother died I was about, oh, eight years old. When my father died I was about thirteen or so, ten years old that time my father... My uncle (inaudible), I lived with my uncle then, my father's family, you know, keep us. When the school is finished, you know, over there, my sisters and two boys, Albert and me, and another boy, youngest, he didn't go, he stayed (inaudible). He's living though. All my sister died and three of us boys living yet.

Question: You were fairly fast on your feet at one time, weren't you?
Levi: Eh?

Question: Fairly fast on your feet? Running?
Levi: Oh yeah.

Question: (Inaudible)?
Levi: Yeah, but (inaudible). I was about 18, 19 years old then.

Question: Then you were the 20s, or the 30s, eh?
Levi: Yeah. My brothers not too old, about the same age.

Question: Same age as you?
Levi: Yeah, same age. (inaudible) two, three seasons, and hop-step-and jump (inaudible).

Question: What's at that place you got up there on (inaudible) Bay? What's the right name for that?
Levi: I'd say (inaudible). (Inaudible).

Question: Yeah, could you tell me about the old bay? All those people there.
Levi: You mean the... I don't know them people at all that came over. Indians that lived there a long time ago.

Question: How did you know they were there?
Levi:    Well, they told me.

Question: Who did?

Levi:    My father and some other people told me. I remember this, you know, (inaudible).

Question: (inaudible)?

Levi:    No.

Question: There aren't any (inaudible).

Levi:    They just move them (inaudible).

Question: Mostly the Indians names?

Levi:    (Inaudible). I don't know what (inaudible).

Question: (Inaudible)?

Levi:    I don't know (inaudible). (Inaudible) I was about 18 years old.

Question: What about that ferry goes around there. They come up from the States and they brought (inaudible) up the line?

Levi:    A long time ago. They come from, they say (inaudible). But they don't like (inaudible) Ontario.

Question: Do you think (inaudible) the money?

Levi:    Well, they should stay over there. They're rich people over there now.

(The rest of this side is inaudible).

(END OF SIDE A)

(SIDE B)

Levi:    They run to the States (inaudible) and take it.

Question: When you were young how many people lived in (inaudible)?

Levi:    Oh, a lot of people then. (Inaudible) there was quite a few.

Question: You mean like a couple hundred?

Levi:    Yeah. But there are not too many now.

Question: Who is the (inaudible) there?
Levi: What's that? I can't hear very good.

Question: (Inaudible).

Levi: Sampson.

Question: Sampson, he was by (inaudible), and they used to play a horn.

Levi: I don't remember that one. I know Sampson used to... Dave Sampson, I know him, you know, from (inaudible). They took the mother, you know, to...

Question: (Inaudible)?

Levi: Oh yes. On the reserve, there was a band there at one time.

Question: And who all played in it?

Levi: Well, they're not living now, I don't think, none of them.

Question: One?

Levi: I don't know which one. (Inaudible) there are not too many now, they played and go (inaudible) quite a few times. Getting a little too old. I don't know, a long time ago this (inaudible) he was playing too.

(The rest of this tape is inaudible.)

(END OF SIDE B)

(END OF TAPE)