Website Update

The Faculty of Business Administration is moving along with the rest of the University of Regina to implement new website templates and formatting. In preparation for this, we need to update all website information, ideally in a format that will be easier to keep up-to-date in the future.

Therefore, we are streamlining the html information that we present on the website for each faculty member, to include only information that changes infrequently (e.g., faculty member name, degrees received, courses taught, research interests). There will be a link to each faculty member’s full PDF CV.

To facilitate this change, faculty members are reminded to send updated information regarding their Education (degrees received or in progress), Courses Taught (current & past), and Research Interests, along with an updated full CV (CV preferably in PDF format) to Kelly-Ann McLeod by June 25, 2010.

U of A Visit

Three University of Alberta Executive Education representatives, including Assistant Dean Carolyn Campbell, visited with Bruce Anderson at the Centre for Management Development on Monday, June 14. Discussions in the meetings focused on opportunities to cooperate with the University of Regina. In operation for 25 years, the U of A Executive Education program has sales of over $5 million annually and generates up to $600,000 in profits for the Alberta School of Business. While in Regina, meetings were arranged for the U of A to meet with Dean Anne Lavack, as well as representatives from the Centre for Continuing Education and the Johnson-Shoyama Graduate School of Policy.
